

Together against all
forms of oppressive
power. They will not intimidate us.

Remember, if you can read these words, there are others putting themselves out there at least as much as you are. That means you are not alone, and the struggle is not hopeless.

